Training

Our association has been advising and training clients in all aspects of security and personal safety at work for many years. Delivering training to a very high level of quality and expertise developed through experience and knowledge, we are able to identify through risk assessment, cost effective solutions. We offer a comprehensive portfolio of both nationally accredited and client led training programmes, designed to meet your needs and those of your staff.

Our organisation is at the leading edge of vocational training and development, producing, managing and delivering training programmes across the UK. Our portfolio is varied, with clients which include groups with disabilities and other special needs, to members of staff who work in professions which may bring them into potentially violent or aggressive situations. BCA are members of The Association of Security Consultants. Bill is a consultant to NCFE as well as being a consultant and tutor for the Suzy Lamplugh Trust.

Our Aims:-

- Continue to provide and support high quality training and development to national standards
- Enhance the coherence of the security industry to enable it to respond effectively to change
- Continue to develop quality training directly related to industry needs
- Identify client needs for training and tailor course to meet those requirements
- Support a working environment which values our staff and enables them to provide a high quality service
